Bryana McGillycuddy Distinguished as 2025 Rising IP Star

Managing IP has named Bryana McGillycuddy as a 2025 Rising IP Star.

Bryana helps biotech, pharmaceutical, life sciences, and technology companies to successfully and efficiently resolve intellectual property-related disputes, including complex patent and trade secrets litigation. Her work includes Hatch-Waxman and biosimilars litigation, as well as post grant reviews before the USPTO. Bryana also advises clients through intellectual property counseling and conducting due diligence generally. In addition, Bryana has extensive experience representing clients in complex commercial disputes, including licensing disputes.

IP Stars research, rankings, and analysis provides independent and impartial accreditation in over 125 jurisdictions, including 1,850 firms and 5,700 practitioners. Each year, Managing IP's research analysts in London, New York, and Hong Kong obtain information from thousands of firms, IP practitioners, and their clients through interviews, emails, and online surveys.
