Choate Recognized in Managing IP's Annual "IP Stars" Ranking

Choate has earned notable recognition in Managing IP's 2025 rankings, which recognize top firms and attorneys in the areas of patent litigation and prosecution. Seven Choate attorneys were recognized as "IP Stars".

- Michael Bunis – Patent Star
- William R. Haulbrook, PhD – Patent Star
- Brenda Herschbach Jarrell, PhD – Top 250 Women in IP, Patent Star
- Charles E. Lyon, DPhil – Patent Star
- Eric J. Marandett – Patent Star
- Rolando Medina, PhD – Patent Star
- Brian E. Reese, PhD, MBA – Patent Star

The Firm also received both national and regional accolades highlighting its strength in life sciences, patent prosecution, and patent disputes. Notably, Choate was ranked nationally in Tier 2 for Life Sciences and Tier 3 for Patent Prosecution, and also earned a "Highly Recommended" designation in both Patent Prosecution and Patent Disputes in Massachusetts.

The "IP Stars" rankings are based on comprehensive independent research, covering more than 125 jurisdictions and evaluating over 1,850 firms and 5,700 practitioners globally. Conducted by Managing IP's research teams in London, New York, and Hong Kong, the process includes extensive interviews, surveys, and client feedback.
