Choate Represents NexPhase Capital in Investment in Magic Science Corporation

Choate represented NexPhase Capital in its strategic investment in Magic Science Corporation, the health sciences company behind the fast-growing skincare brand Magic Molecule. Magic Science Corporation is a leading FDA- and EPA-registered manufacturer of hypochlorous acid (HOCl) in the U.S., with patented processes that deliver HOCl consumer goods with one of the longest shelf lives on the market. The investment will fuel Magic Science Corporation's expansion across products, retail distribution, and science-backed skincare and household consumer goods.
