Margo Monroe Speaking on Tech Transfer and Commercialization at IPWatchdog Women's IP Forum

Dr. Margo Monroe will join the panel "Tech Transfer and the Commercialization Process," at the IPWatchdog Women's IP Forum on Tuesday, August 27, 2024 at 9:00 a.m. EST. The panel will discuss how the Bayh-Dole Act has provided a path for academic research via tech transfer to commercialize and bring groundbreaking innovations to market, its historic successes, and the constant challenges brought against the law. In addition, the panel will examine the federal government's proposed march-in rights as a way to control industry pricing, and it's potential impact on university tech transfer opportunities.

More information about the Forum can be found here.
