Melissa Adams Speaking at 2025 Women's IP Forum

Melissa Adams will be speaking on the panel, "Getting Started in IP Law Today: Tips & Strategies from the Next Generation" at IP Watchdog's 2025 Women's IP Forum on Monday, September 15.

The session will be a candid and practical conversation, with early-career IP professionals sharing their experiences, insights, and lessons learned on launching a successful career in IP today, including: finding opportunities, building relationships, developing subject matter expertise, and navigating the challenges of entering a complex and dynamic field.
