Michael Bunis and David Attisani Receive Lexology 2022 Client Choice Awards

Michael Bunis and David Attisani have received 2022 Lexology "Client Choice" awards for their respective practice areas in Massachusetts.

Michael, co-chair of Choate's IP Litigation Practice, is receiving the award in Litigation for the second time, while David, a partner, is being recognized for his work in Insurance & Reinsurance.

The Client Choice awards recognize partners and law firms around the world that provide excellent client service. Unlike other awards, nominations can only be made by in-house counsel who have experienced "above and beyond" service and value from their law firm partner. This year, Lexology received over 2,500 nominations.
