Sean Monahan Moderating Panel on the Current State of Stadium Finance

Sean Monahan will moderate the panel, "A Rebirth for Stadium & Arena Finance" at 11:00 a.m. EST on November 10, 2022.

The live webinar hosted by Proximo Intelligence will discuss how large venues, developers and owners plan to welcome back sporting and other entertainment events in light of reduced health concerns, but at a time when economic and financial market conditions are in a state of flux. Specifically, the panel will address whether disposable income levels and lender risk tolerances support the new crop of stadium and arena financings, the most active investors in the space of equity and infrastructure funds, how the pandemic has affected the way transactions take place, and recently closed and ongoing deals – including insight on the dynamics of top leagues in the world.
