Serent Capital Invests in Medical Informatics Engineering

Choate represented Serent Capital in a growth investment in Medical Informatics Engineering (MIE), a provider of electronic health records and health IT software. MIE is a pioneer in healthcare information and technology, and this investment will advance the Enterprise Health occupational health software platform and help its expansion into new markets. Serent Capital is a growth-focused private equity firm with a robust track record in the healthcare market, having invested in over 27 healthcare technology companies in the last decade.
