Shaun also advises institutional investors in connection with primary fund investments, co-investments, and secondary transactions.

Shaun brings a unique breadth of experience to his client work given his prior practice in Hong Kong advising a variety of Asia-based private equity sponsors investing across the region.

Selections for the Financier Worldwide Power Players list are led by the publication's in-house editorial team, which identifies candidates based on their industry visibility, thought leadership, and notable engagements in the investment funds space. The editorial team also considers nominations from firms, ultimately curating a select group of distinguished advisors to feature.
