Sheron Korpus Featured in Benchmark Litigation Exclusive on Move to Choate

Sheron Korpus was interviewed in the Benchmark Litigation feature story, "Exclusive: Sheron Korpus spills all on shock move to Choate." In the article written by Benchmark Litigation editor, Michael Rafalowich, Sheron provides candid insight into what drew him to Choate and how he sees his practice growing at the firm.

In his first interview since the move, Sheron explains how his experience complements Choate's strengths, including the firm's work in private equity, finance and restructuring, and intellectual property. He notes that his clients have made the move with him, and that new work has already followed.

Sheron explains that he had not been inclined to leave Kasowitz, where he spent 20 years, but that Choate offered a chance to extend his practice and move with the long-term colleagues who joined him. The transition also allows him to stay focused on serving his clients, including by leveraging Choate's use of AI to deliver greater efficiency.

The story is a follow-up to coverage that appeared in a November 3, 2026 article entitled, "Choate chases NYC growth with 11-member team from Kasowitz."
