

Daniel Refael Woods

ASSOCIATE

617-248-4816 | dwoods@choate.com

Daniel Refael Woods works with clients in Choate's Litigation Department.

During law school, Danny worked for the Office of General Counsel at Cornell University where he conducted legal research on a variety of topics including data privacy and higher education law. Prior to law school, he was a manager of global cyber risk services for a management consulting firm, and has held several other positions in the cyber security industry.

Focus Areas

Litigation and Investigations

Publications and Presentations

- "Diagnosing a healthcare cybersecurity crisis: The impact of IoMT advancements and 5G," co-author, Business Horizons Volume 64 Issue 6, November–December 2021
- "Kleptopredation in a Digital World," author, InfoSecurity Magazine, August 2020
- "Brazil's New President and The Changing Cyber Risk Landscape," author, Forbes, November 2018
- "Do not let your Merger or Acquisition become a Window of Cyber Attack," co-author, Risk & Compliance Magazine, October–December 2017

Education & Credentials

- Cornell Law School, JD (2024) Executive Editor, Cornell Legal Information Institute Supreme Court Bulletin
- University of Haifa, MA (2017)
- Georgetown University, BS (2015)

Admissions

- Massachusetts