SENIOR ASSOCIATE

617-248-4926 mkausel@choate.com

Madeleine is a member of Choate's Business and Financial Litigation and Government Enforcement groups. She advises a broad range of clients on complex litigation and government investigations, with experience including securities fraud, internal investigations, licensing disputes and insurance coverage disputes. She has represented major pharmaceutical companies, global reinsurers, and defense contractors, assisting with compliance assessments, enforcement risk evaluations, and litigation strategy. Her work includes supporting clients in high-stakes disputes and investigations that often involve cross-border elements and sensitive regulatory issues.

Madeleine is also strongly committed to pro bono representation, particularly in matters related to immigration and constitutional issues.

While in law school, Madeleine was a student attorney for the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office in the Trial Division. She was also a judicial intern for the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, where she assisted the Honorable Juan R. Torruella.
